Van Bael & Bellis is a leading independent law firm based in Brussels, with offices in London and Geneva. We are widely recognised as market leaders in the fields of Belgian business law, EU competition law, international trade law and EU regulatory law. We offer our clients the support of a highly effective team of professionals with multi-jurisdictional expertise and a truly international perspective. We work on complex, high-end international assignments, which require deep knowledge of the law and innovative thinking, yet with practical results for our demanding clients. Established more than 30 years ago, our firm has grown to include over 90 lawyers from 25 different countries.
